CHARLES-TOWN (South Carolina) October 15.

BY the laſt Accounts from the Camp at Congarees the Men ſtill continued very ſickly. A conſiderable Number of the Sick are coming to Town, where the Barracks have been prepared for their Reception.

The Rangers, by the laſt Advices, were rendezvouſed at Ninety-ſix.

The Province of North-Carolina has raiſed four Companies, One Hundred Men each, under the Command of Col. Hugh Waddel, who are employed for the Protection of their Frontier againſt the Cherokees. The Head-Quarters are at Fort Dobbs. Twenty of our Rangers came upon an Indian Camp, killed one Indian, and wounded another, and retook a large Quantity of Beef which the Indians had juſt killed.

Several Traders are arrived at Auguſta from the Creek Nation, and have brought down a large Quantity of Skins, and other Effects. What belonged to the murdered Traders is now chiefly recovered. Affairs in that Country bear a promiſing Aſpect; all is Peace and Quietneſs at preſent; but perhaps the next Accounts may be diametrically oppoſite. The Wolf and Gun Merchant ſay, they are coming down to ſee the Governors; the firſt of thoſe Headmen has always been our firm and unalterable Friend.

On Saturday laſt, agreeable to the Talk ſent to the Cherokee Indians, formerly mentioned in this Paper, the Priſoners taken in the Expedition under the Hon. Col. Montgomery, were ſent, under an Eſcort, for Congarees, and thence to proceed to Ninety-ſix to be exchanged.

The ſame Day Major Thomſon, of the Rangers, with near 300 Men of that Regiment, ſet out with a large Quantity of jerked Beef (26 Carcaſes) and about 3000 lb. of Flour, from Ninety-ſix, for Fort Prince-George.

October 18.

Copy of a Letter from Colonel Byrd, addreſſed to the Standing-Turkey, Ocunnahſtotah, and the reſt of the Head-Warriors of the Cherokee Nation.

MY good Brother, the Little-Carpenter, has delivered me Captain Stuart, and 3 others of my Countrymen; who have informed me of your treacherous Behaviour to the Garriſon of Fort-Loudoun, and have told me of the many Engliſh Priſoners now in your Nation, which I am determined to chaſtiſe you for, unleſs you immediately deliver them all up to me; for Virginians and Carolinians are the ſame People. As you know I always wiſhed your Nation well, and never told you a Lie in all my Talks with you, I will now tell you my Situation; and what you may expect from me, if you perſiſt in your own Obſtinacy to bring Deſtruction on yourſelves, your Women and Children. I am now encamped on the Waters of Kanawa, with a powerful Army of Virginians, and can have as many more Men as I pleaſe, and as many Indians as I want, from the Ohio and Sir William Johnſon, now we have drove the French out of Canada and their Forts to the Northward. I am building Forts all the Way, and propoſe ſoon to be in your Nation; when I will not leave one Indian alive, one Town ſtanding, or one Grain of Corn, in all your Country, if I do not find all the white People well, when I go there. I tell you this Truth, becauſe I am not afraid of you; and wiſh for nothing more than to fight with you, if you ſtill deſire War; for my Men have beat all the Indians to the Northward, and are not to be frightened by your Yells. But, as I once loved you like my Brothers, and ſtill wiſh to ſee you happy, hear what I have to ſay to you, and think on your own miſerable Situation. King GEORGE's Armies have drove the French from the Northern Parts of America, and the Indians there are now begging for Peace. We have nothing to do now, but to drive the French from the Southward: Then what will become of you? Who will ſupply you with Goods, to keep yourſelves and your Families warm? Who will let you have Ammunition to kill Deer; or Knives, or Salt, or any Neceſſaries of Life? Our People know the Way into your Nation: They are as numerous as the Fiſh in the Sea; and will go every Fall into your Towns, and kill you, if they find you; and if they cannot find you (becauſe you run away) they will deſtroy your Corn in your Granaries, and will build Forts in your hunting Grounds; and at laſt drive you into the South-Sea ——Think of theſe Things, Cherokees, and think of all my ſtraight Talks, and believe what I now ſay; for 'tis for your own Good. Call in all your Warriors directly; come down, and talk with me, and bring me in your Priſoners; and you ſhall be ſafe, and go home when you pleaſe; and I will be your Friend and Brother again, and will procure you a good Peace.——Tom will tell you how I uſed him; and the Little-Carpenter will be with you, as ſoon as he has refreſhed himſelf with me; they will all tell you what I ſay is true.——If you have a Mind for a Peace, come in directly; and, depend upon it, I will not detain you, but let you go when you have a Mind: You ſhall meet with good Uſage, and not a Hair of your Heads ſhall be hurt, for I do not want to deſtroy your People. Send in a Runner before you, and the Path ſhall be clear. Be ſure to have a good Interpreter, that he may tell you all I ſay: I would ſend you Dick Smith, but I do not know how you would uſe him.

Given under my Hand, at the Camp on the Waters of Kanawa, Sept. 16, 1760.

WILLIAM BYRD, Commanding an Army of Virginians.

P. S. If you refuſe my Offer now, my Guns ſhall talk of War, and not of Peace."

Copy of a Letter from the Great Warrior, addreſſed, To the Commanding Officer at Fort Prince-George, &c.

Friend and Brother, Noucaſſih, Sept. 29, 1760.

I AND my People ſet off from Chotih to receive the Governor's Letter, but I received a Talk from Colonel Byrd: I ſhall ſtay this Day where I am, and then proceed on my Journey to Keowee; and perhaps I may come to the Fort, if I thought you would not ſhut me up. I am well pleaſed with the Governor's Letter, and Col. Byrd's, and I hope all Things will be made up. I love the Whites that are among us, and they ſhall be ſafe returned to their reſpective Homes ſoon. By the 2d of October I expect the Expreſs at Keowee, and by that Time I ſhall be there. I remain,

Your Friend and Brother,

OCUNNAHSTOTAH."

" P. S. We are coming unarmed: We come to meet in Peace, not for War."

Copy of another Letter from Judd's Friend, addreſſed as the foregoing.

Friend and Brother,

I AND all the Warriors remember the Governor's Letter, and I hope all Things will be made ſtrait ſoon. I thought to have gone to Town, but don't know how I may be received. I hope the Governor will ſend ſome of his Warriors nigher hand to talk. I have been thro' all the Towns, and gave them my Talk of Peace, which they all approve of, and are deſirous of a Peace. What is it like, to war with the Engliſh? We can find none other to ſupply us with what we want, but them only. I remain,

Your Friend and Brother,

JUDD's FRIEND, alias OTASSITIH."

Copy of a Letter from the Great Warrior, addreſſed to Lieutenant Miln, dated, Camp near Cheewih, October 1, 1760.

Friend and Brother,

YOU gave me an Invitation to your Garriſon, but I muſt defer the Viſit till To-morrow. All my Brother-Towns, as I came along, are well agreed, and inclinable for a Peace: I ſhall now take the Hatchet out of their Hands, and bury it: They now think of nothing but what is good. The Seed, of Settiquoh, is at Eſtatowih; we are now going to have a Talk, and to take and bury the Hatchet that he has; it is the laſt that is out. When I have accompliſhed my Meſſage at Eſtatowih with the Seed, you may expect to ſee me at your Fort. I do not chuſe to have a Talk in the Fort, by reaſon they [my People] will not all have Admittance; therefore we will have it out of the Fort, as there are a great many of us, that all may hear. We have the Governor's Pipe with us, which we ſhall ſmoak in firſt, in Remembrance of him, &c. I remain, Your Friend and Brother,

OCUNNAHSTOTAH."

" P. S. The Turkey ſays, his Brother-Town of Settiquoh makes you a Preſent of this Tobacco [ſome that came with the Letter] to ſmoak it, in Token of Friendſhip, &c. The Raven brings the Pipe."

Wedneſday laſt, ſoon after the Expreſs from Ninety-Six came in, another arrived from Col. Byrd's Camp (which was ſtill at Sawyer's on Reed Creek, near Great Kanawa River) with Diſpatches, dated the 21ſt of September; and brought the following Advices, " That Attakulla Kulla (or the Little-Carpenter) was juſt ſetting out on an Embaſſy to the Cherokee Nation, with Orders of Peace from Col. Byrd, upon theſe Terms, viz.

I. That they ſhall deliver up Fort Loudoun (with all the Cannon, Stores, &c. thereto belonging) to the Virginia Troops, to be garriſoned by them.

II. That they ſhall likewiſe forthwith deliver up all the white Priſoners in their Nation, unhurt.

III. That the Virginians ſhall be at Liberty to erect and garriſon other Forts in the Nation, wherever they may think proper.

IV. That they ſhall hold no Correſpondence with the French, nor ſuffer any to come among them, upon any Pretence whatever.

V. That they ſhall deliver up ſuch Perſons as ſhall be required of them, to be put to Death in the Virginia Camp.

VI. That Attakulla-Kulla ſhall be declared and acknowledged Emperor and Head of the Whole Cherokee Nation.

Theſe, we hear, are the Terms, upon which Col. Byrd propoſes to the Cherokees, " That all Hoſtilities againſt them ſhall ceaſe; their Trade ſhall be fully reſtored; and ſuch of their People as are Priſoners amongſt the Engliſh ſhall be delivered livered up." The Little-Carpenter had engaged to return, with the Nation's Anſwer to theſe Terms, by the 20th Inſtant at fartheſt, to the Virginia Camp, where Captain Stuart was, and would remain till then: He flattered himſelf, that he could prevail on the Heads of the Nation to agree to them; and if he ſucceeds, is to be properly ſupported as Emperor of the Cherokees, &c.

Letters from Auguſta of the 5th Inſtant acquaint us, that Things again wear a good Aſpect in the Creek Nation; that almoſt all the Leather which the murdered Traders Stores were robbed of was reſtored; and that ten Chactahs were arrived there with two French Scalps, taken in Sight of Tompeak-bay Fort, by theſe Indians with ſome Creeks, headed by Duvall's-Landlord, in Revenge for the Death of the Pack-horſeman who was killed near the ſame Place ſome Time ago, at the Inſtigation of the French: The Fort fired upon them, but without Effect.

It was Capt. Dorgan, who went out on a Scout the 22d ult. with a Party of Rangers, that on the 26th fell in with the Indian Camp mentioned in the Letter from Fort Prince George. There were 3 Indians in the Camp (which was on Reedy River) one of whom (an old Man) they killed and ſcalped, and ſent his Scalp to Major Thomſon; the two others ran into a Cane Swamp. In the Camp they found two Guns, plenty of Powder and Ball, a great deal of Plunder, and two large Bullocks juſt killed, which the Indians were going to jerk.

Letters of the 3d Inſtant, from Savannah, tell us, that every Thing was quiet in that Quarter at that Time: That Accounts from the Indian Country were as uſual; The Creeks promiſed fair, and remained peaceable: And that, upon the Arrival here of the long-expected Preſents from England, which came over with Lieutenant-Governor Wright, Governor Ellis had ſent for the Headmen to come down.

The Schooner Nancy, Capt. Dyer, from Philadelphia, met with a hard Gale of Wind off Cape-Hatteras, on Sunday the 5th Inſtant which obliged him to throw his Boat and every Thing upon Deck overboard, and to cut away his Main-maſt.

October 22. By Letters from Fort Prince George, dated the 4th Inſtant, and brought to Ninety-ſix, by a Perſon ſent for that Purpoſe, we have the following Advices, viz.

"The Indian ſent off from the Virginia Camp to alarm, with Accounts of Col. Byrd's Approach, was arrived, and brought a very ſpirited Talk from the Colonel.—The Indians, it is ſaid, were rebuilding the Lower Towns deſtroyed by Colonel Montgomery, and pretended to be deſirous of Peace, of which their offering again to ſettle in thoſe Towns ſeems no ſlight Proof. They had likewiſe brought Corn, ſome Beef, Veniſon, and other Proviſions into the Fort."

The Commanding Officer writes: "On the 25th of September I had four Chickeſaws, and a white Man named Cuthbert, with me; they brought no material News. I could not ſhew them that Regard I deſired, becauſe Old Cæſar came in the ſame Day with two of the Fort Loudoun Garriſon (Provincials) I was obliged therefore to ſend off the Chickeſaws in the Night, for fear of ſomething fatal. About the Middle of September, one John Stephens, of Capt. Goldſmith's Company, was brought into the Fort by Tuſkeegatahee, an Indian, who told me, that Ocunnahſtotah had deſired him to enquire what Goods I had in Store, for he deſigned to be down himſelf to inſpect into them. Stephens paid Sixty Pounds for his Ranſom. He ſaid the Indians were determined to have this Fort. The Chief of the Overhill Towns are now here, waiting the Arrival of MacNamar with the Governor's Anſwer; they come often to the Fort, bringing one or more of the Captives with them, to ſee what they can get for their Ranſom; they have only brought down about ſeven in all. 'Tis a ſhocking Sight to ſee our Fellow Chriſtians Slaves to Heathen Barbarians, obliged to be at their Beck and Call, looking every Moment when they ſhall have the Hatchet ſtruck into their Heads.

"It is no little Difficulty, in the Condition this Garriſon now is, to keep the Men to their Duty, we can hold out a Month, during which Time ſurely, we ſhall be relieved.—It is not long ſince the Creeks ſent a War Hatchet to the Cherokees, deſiring them to continue the War, and they would aſſiſt them. The Man-killer of Nookaſe I believe is ſtill our Friend, and has differed with his People on that Account; he lives with me in the Fort.—While I have a Day's Proviſion I am determined not to quit my Ground; if I get a ſupply, it is not all the Indians on the Continent that ſhall make me give up what we have ſo long held.——

A. MILN."

Auguſta, 9th October 1760. "A few Days ago arrrived ten Chactaws, with the Scalp of one Chactaw of the French Party, as Satisfaction for a Pack-horſeman lately killed by them. Duvall's Landlord, with 40 of his Nation (Creeks) and one Chactaw, went very near the Fort in the Chactaw Country, killed a Fellow and a Wench of the French Party, and fired at the Fort till the French obliged them to retire by their Cannon. Duvall's Landlord declares, that while he can get a Man to follow him, he will continue a War againſt the Chactaws in the French Intereſt: He propoſed being down before now, if nothing more happened, and as he is not come, we conclude the Chactaws followed the Party for Satisfaction. The Creeks do not yet incline to give Satisfaction for the Murders committed by them. An Expreſs is gone from Governor Ellis to Mr. Joſeph Wright, to get the Headmen of the Creeks down to Savannah. Mr. William Thomſon is gone to Savannah with fifteen Chactaws, and is thence to proceed to Charles-Town."

Since our laſt about 180 of the Royal Scots are come down ſick from the Camp at Congarees, and are lodged in the Barracks.

The Diſtance from the Virginia Camp to the Country of the Cherokee Indians is ſaid to be only five Days ride. The Indian diſpatched by Col. Byrd, with the News of his Approach, arrived in four Days and a Half at Fort Loudoun.

The Eſcort with the Cherokee Priſoners are arrived ſafe at Congarees.

On Sunday Evening one Horton, belonging to the independent Companies, and who, with ſix others, eſcaped out of the Garriſon of Fort Loudoun before the Capitulation, arrived in Town, after many Hardſhips.

This Day Samuel Terron, who has been a conſiderable Time among the Cherokees, came to Town with Diſpatches to the Governor from Mr. Miln, and an Anſwer from Ocunnahſtotah to the Talk ſent up by Macnamar, the Wolf and the Corn-Taſſel.

Fort Prince-George, Oct. 10th. "The Indians ſeem very deſirous of a Peace, and are gone up to bring the Priſoners down to carry to Ninety-Six, as they inform me, to exchange, agreeable to the Governor's Anſwer to their Talks by Macnamar. There are ſome white Savages amongſt them, greater Villains than the Indians themſelves, who let no Opportunity ſlip of informing them of every Thing they either ſee or hear, and how Affairs go on in the Settlements."——

Ocunnahſtotah's Talk or Letter is dated at Sugar-town 10th Inſt. and addreſſed to his Honour.—He ſays,—"I received your Letter, dated 28th ult. and I think it is very good. As to the Goods that were brought up to Keowee, which I mentioned in my laſt, I find there is none there.—As for our People that are amongſt you, I love them a great deal, as I do yours alſo.—As for coming and bringing the Priſoners to Ninety-Six, I cannot juſt now, by Reaſon I am obliged to go and meet that dreadful Warrior Col. Byrd, who is encamped within 5 Days March of Chotih, to anſwer his Letter. I did not care to go to the Fort; I ſent the beloved Pipe to the Warrior to ſmoke in, and he gave me what little Favours I deſired, and I thanked them for it, and I wiſh them well.—We are a little dubious of what was acted laſt by your Warriors, as you mentioned nothing of it in your Letter, and muſt defer it a little longer before I can venture that Length.—You may rely on what I now ſay; we are now done, and I deſire nothing but a Peace.—What Priſoners came down with us went backwards and forwards to the Fort, and at laſt ſtaid there, and I think well of it. I remain, &c.

OCUNNAHSTOTAH ⊖.

Mr. Terron met Major Thompſon, with his Rangers, on Sunday the 12th Inſtant, near Long Canes, and expects they got to Fort Prince-George Yeſterday Se'nnight.

Added to the above, the following are the moſt authentic and material Advices now received from the Cherokee Country.

"It was Round O's Brother who ſeized and carried off Captain Stuart from the Field of Blood, where ſo many of our Countrymen and Friends were treacherouſly butchered by the perfidious Savages, and who delivered him to Attakullakulla, then at Fort-Loudoun.——Judd's Friend exerted himſelf much that Day in our Favour, and prevented the Maſſacre from being almoſt general: He went round the Field, ordering and calling to the Indians to deſiſt, and by the repreſentations he made to them, ſtopt the further Progreſs and Effects of their barbarous and brutal Rage. He declares it as his Opinion and Reſolution, that if they can now obtain a Peace, "there never ſhall be more War as long as he and the "Old Warriors live."——On the 26th of laſt Month the Britiſh Colours were diſplayed all Day and Night at Nookaſe, where there was a Meeting of near 2000 Cherokees, about 1400 of whom were Men, and a Talk was delivered by Ocunnahſtotah and Judd's Friend for a Peace with their Brothers the white Men; ["The Indians always, "by white Men, mean Britons, in Diſtinction from "other Europeans, whom they call by their com-"mon and uſual Names, as French, Spaniards, "&c."] which Talk was repeated by the ſame Headmen, and agreed to by all preſent, 9th Inſt. at Sugar Town. Orders were thereupon given, that no white Men [Britons] coming into the Nation, ſhould be interrupted, but be allowed freely to paſs and repaſs. This great Alteration in the Behaviour of the Indians, is by Mr. Terron, and others well acquainted with them, attributed entirely to the Talks ſent to them by our Governor and Col. Byrd.——The whole Crop this Year in all the Cherokee Towns, notwithſtanding the terrifying Accounts eagerly and ſedulouſly propagated, of the great Quantity of Corn that would be made in the deſtroyed and deſolate Lower Settlements, is not ſufficient to ſupply them 3 Months. Many of that Nation, among whom are nearly all the People of the Middle Settlements and Lower Towns, who were the moſt ſeverely chaſtiſed and ſcourged by his Majeſty's Troops, commanded by the Hon. Col. Montgomery, are now almoſt naked, and in Want of every Neceſſary. There is, therefore, on the whole, little Reaſon to doubt of the Sincerity of their Requeſts for Peace."

By a Veſſel from Hamburgh, which ſhe left the 1ſt or 2d of October (being very late from Germany) we are told, there had been no general Action between Prince Ferdinand and the French, the latter retreating, it was thought, on Account of the Seaſon, and Want of Supplies, whilſt the former was ſtrongly advancing.——There was nothing material from the King of Pruſſia's Army.
